

You Can Save a Life! Treating an Opioid Overdose!

A Guide to Narcan

What is Narcan?

Narcan® Nasal Spray or naloxone is a medicine used to treat a suspected opioid overdose.

When should Narcan be used?

Use Narcan® Nasal Spray right away if you suspect the person may have taken too many opioids. Use it even if you are not sure because an overdose can cause severe injury or death. Signs and symptoms of an opioid emergency may include the following.

- The person is very sleepy, and you are not able to wake them up with a loud voice or by rubbing firmly on the middle of their chest (sternum).
- The person is having trouble breathing including slow or shallow breaths. They may look like they are not breathing.

Where can I get Narcan?

Narcan is available by prescription at some local pharmacies. You may be given a prescription from your medical provider. However, you do not need a prescription to get it from some pharmacies. In Michigan, pharmacies can give you Narcan without a prescription. The table below lists a few of the pharmacies in our area where you can get Narcan.
